

Historical Ecology for the Future

International conference

Metz, France, 25th to 29th May 2020

Historical Ecology for the Future aims at promoting historical ecology and highlighting its recent advances and key results. Geographers, biologists, historians, social scientists, economists, archaeologists, ecologists, paleoecologists, managers, and soil scientists, etc., dealing with historical ecology issues, are welcome to join the conference to share and discuss their questions, data, and results.

CALL FOR COMMUNICATIONS

Online registration open

The organization committee of the HEF2020 invites abstract submissions for oral and / or poster to the four sessions of the conference :

1. Historical heritage and conservation management
2. Environmental resource exploitation
3. Ecological dynamics
4. Methods and tools in historical ecology

Oral communication: 15 minutes including 5 minutes for discussion

Poster must be on A0 size on portrait orientation

See more about the session here: <https://symposium.inra.fr/hef2020/Program>

Abstract submission <https://symposium.inra.fr/hef2020/Abstract-registration>

Conference registration <https://symposium.inra.fr/hef2020/Conference-registration>

Please also complete inform on about registration option, social events (<https://symposium.inra.fr/hef2020/Social-and-practical-information>) and excursions (<https://symposium.inra.fr/hef2020/Excursions-Offers>)

Deadline for registration/abstract submission is the 29th February 2020

Thanks for spreading this call

Contact information:

contact@hef2020.com

Web site:

symposium.inra.fr/hef2020

Follow us on:

 @HEF_2020

Historical Ecology for the Future

International conference

Metz, France, 25th to 29th May 2020

CALL FOR COMMUNICATIONS

Online registration open

Here <https://symposium.inra.fr/hef2020>

Thanks for spreading this call

Thanks for spreading
this call

Conference talks from the 25th to the 28th May at the lecture hall Demange on the university campus "Île du Saulcy" in Metz city center

Excursions in researches areas in the beautiful Lorraine on the 29th May

Icebreaker on the 25th May at the Metz city hall

And many other things to do, to visit ... to enjoy!

Contact information:

contact@hef2020.com

Web site:

symposium.inra.fr/hef2020

Follow us on:

 @HEF_2020